

Northmont's Indoor Percussion Ensemble to hold preview of show

The Northmont Indoor Percussion Ensemble is returning this year for its second season featuring a show entitled "The Sneetches" based on the book by Dr. Seuss.

This group is under the direction of Brian Wissman, assistant director for the Northmont High School band program, featuring 33 members, and will be competing in Scholastic A class. The show is designed by Andrew Ebert, music composed by Adam Green, battery parts by Jason Sleppy and visual by Aaron Bailey.

The Percussion Ensemble extends an invitation to family and friends to attend the debut of their show at a special parent preview held at the Northmont High School gym on Saturday, Jan. 24 at 8 p.m. along with the Northmont Winterguard.

Their first scheduled MEPA competition will be held at Miamisburg High School on Sunday, January 25, with a scheduled performance time of 10:09 a.m. Please attend these events and show your support for these groups.